- Contemporary and simple style • Opal white mouthblown glass and matte metal
- Large pendant that creates visual volume • Contemporary and simple style

Miry is a decorative series in metal with an element of white opal glass in the middle of the shade. The glass element protrudes both on the top and bottom of the shade, thus ensuring that the light is directed both upwards and downwards. The white opal glass covers the light source and contributes to a soft and comfortable light.

The grey metal highlights the minimalistic expression of the pendant. Miry is a large pendant that is suitable for example above the dining table or coffee table.
