

2110670103

A black, cylindrical pendant light fixture is shown against a white background. The fixture is a simple, solid black cylinder. At the bottom of the cylinder, there is a circular opening that reveals a bright, warm-white light source, likely an LED panel. The light is glowing, creating a soft, circular glow that fades into the white background. The top of the cylinder is slightly wider than the bottom, giving it a subtle, modern design.

