At the start of a new project, I look for a challenge. I'm interested in creating products that will last for years. I want to create products that are functional, practical and beautiful. I'm also interested in creating products that are easy to use and that have a long life span. I'm also interested in creating products that are easy to clean and maintain. I'm also interested
easy to assemble and disassemble. I'm also
that are easy to transport and store. I'm also interested
