Anker Studio was founded by Danish designer Jonas Birkebæk Poulsen, who was immersed in design from an early age, making it an integral part of his daily life. Growing up with a father who worked as a designer at LEGO, the idea of creating something from nothing was always close at hand. This early exposure made design feel like second nature. It shaped not just his interests but also the way he sees the world today – all the details, possibilities, and stories waiting to be told.

For Jonas, great design always begins with something surprising – a tiny detail, something that sparks curiosity. It's never just about function. Of course, a lamp should provide good light. But the real magic happens when form and function come together in a way that feels both natural and slightly unexpected.
